

Abstract

A system and method for implementing HACCP process and control at a plurality of food service establishments via the Internet. A HACCP system administrator establishes the 5 parameters of the HACCP system for the overall organization. The parameters, once defined, are thereafter visible at each remote facility within the organization. Food service workers make observations and enter data into a PDA where they are thereafter uploaded and stored in a database server.